Realtors Board Explains Fehling Road Opposition

In a statement issued after a meeting this morning, the Granite City Board of Realtors expressed again strong opposition to the city council's proposed $100,000 motor fuel tax project to extend Fehling road to benefit a private enterprise.

"In view of the new tax burden soon to be borne by Granite City taxpayers for costs of sewer breaks and a sewage disposal plant, it would seem the Granite City Board of Realtors, representing the home owners and home buyers of this city, are in a position to voice their opinion at this time," the statement said.

The board called for "private developments to be paid for by private funds, as they have been in the past, and not with motor fuel tax funds when tax money is so desperately needed to improve existing streets."

The realtors said they are in favor of any development and expansion, however, and the Granite City, pointing to more than a dozen developments and

Nameoki Board Studying Sewer Engineer Contract

Nameoki town board members last night took under advisement a proposed contract with H. W. Lochner Co., Chicago consulting engineer firm, for preparation of plans for a sanitary sewer system in the township.

Town Atty. Nick Vasiloff was asked to look into the need to revamp the portion of the contract which calls for construction of the system only in the unincorporated areas of the township.

Last month, a small section of the township was incorporated as the village of Ponton Beach. Vasiloff was instructed to determine any legal problems which might arise due to the incorporation.

He also is to determine if the fees set forth are the customary for such work. He also is to make certain the township is not obligated should the Federal Housing & Administration Agency come down the request for preliminary planning funds.

Action on Jan. 16.

Supervisor Harry Briggs said the board should be able to take action on the contract at its Jan. 16 meeting.

The contract calls for the firm to assist the township in making application for federal planning funds; to prepare preliminary plans with data on revenue and sewer charges; final construction plans and specifications and inspection and supervision during construction.

Special work is to be paid at the rate of total payroll costs plus 100%, with social security costs and holidays and vacations extra. Work to be done by the firm is to be paid on the basis of actual costs.

The fees for preliminary planning will be in the following amounts:

Up to $100,000, 1.4%; $100,000 to $200,000, 1.3%; $200,000 to $300,000, 1.2%; $300,000 to $400,000, 1.1%; $400,000 to $500,000, 1.0%; $500,000 to $750,000, 1.05%; $750,000 to $1,000,000, 1%; and $1,000,000 to $2,000,000, .95%.

Construction Plan Fees

For actual construction plans, the fee structure would be—up to $200,000, 5.4%; $200,000 to $300,000, 5.3%; $300,000 to $400,000, 4.9%; $400,000 to $500,000, 4.6%; $500,000 to $750,000, 4.4%; $750,000 to $1,000,000, 4.2%; and $1,000,000 to $2,000,000, 3.75%.

Briggs explained the township has a preliminary contract with the firm, but with the prospect of proceeding with the project, a new contract is being called for.

He pointed out the need for a sanitary sewer system was stressed over a year ago by C. W. Klassen, technical advisor for the state Sanitary Water Board.

"We were advised by letter at that time that the building up in the area and the reliance on privies and septic tanks would result in pollution problems."

"The state is ready to authorize sewage lagoons, but has suggested we confer with the levee district for aid in getting a sanitary sewer system or the creation of a township sanitary district," the supervisor said.

"We've found that a township sanitary district without levee district assistance would be too costly, and we're in the process now of trying to institute a suit in the Madison county circuit court to force the levee district to build trunk lines without a referendum."

"It was done in a sanitary district at Aurora, and we feel certain it can be done here," Briggs added. Town Atty. Vasiloff is to confer with other attorneys later this month to begin preparation of the suit.

"We might need special legislation to get the financial aid we need, but this suit would be a step in that direction," Briggs explained.

The board also discussed $100 deductible insurance on its road trucks and grader and the purchase of an exhaust fan for the town hall.

Orthodox Churches Here Join Feast Day Observance

Several million Eastern Orthodox Catholic Church members throughout the United States will be celebrating the Feast of Christ's Nativity Monday, including the two local Orthodox Churches, the Nativity of the Virgin Mary, and Holy Trinity Bulgarian Orthodox, both of Madison.

This is in accordance with the Julian calendar. In the year 46 B.C., Julius Caesar, the Roman Emperor, decided to correct the ancient calendar which had become so distorted that January was falling in the autumn. To correct the calendar, he had the months adjusted to 31 days, with the exception of February, which had 28 days.

When this new calendar was adopted by the entire world and came known as the Julian Calendar. This is the calendar in use when Christ lived upon the earth. In the fourth century, during the reign of Constantine the Great, the First Ecumenical Council of the Orthodox Church held in Nicea, The Holy Fathers accepted with the basis for formulating church holidays.

Error Corrected

This calendar was in force until 1562 A.D., when the Roman Pope Gregory XIII changed the proceed to the church where the Great Compline is celebrated in anticipation of the Birth of the Saviour.

One of the highlights of the service is the reading of the prophecy of Isaiah with the response of the faithful, "Emmanuel—God is with us."

Fr. Theodosius, priest of the Nativity of the Virgin Mary Church, 418 Kwing avenue, Madison, has announced the following schedule of services, beginning Friday with Great Hours, 9 a.m., Confessions, 8 p.m., Saturday, Divine Liturgy, 9 a.m., Great Vespers, 7 p.m., Confessions, 7:30 p.m., Divine Liturgy, 10 a.m., Great Compline, 6 p.m., caroling, 8:30 p.m.; Monday, Nativity of Christ, Divine Liturgy, 9:30 a.m.; Tuesday, Council of Mary, Divine Liturgy at the Holy Trinity Bulgarian Orthodox Church, Grand avenue, Madison, 9:30 a.m.; Wednesday, St. Stephen the First Martyr, Divine Liturgy, 9 a.m.

Stevens said, "If he can't, then he should have an appointed person to stand in line for him. No one should represent more than one candidate while holding only one place in line."

Stevens emphasized that even if an individual should file for more than one candidate, he still would have to file one petition first and thus favor one candidate over the others.

Names of candidates appear on the ballot in the order in which they file. Candidates at the top of the ballot usually are credited with the votes of a majority of the undecided voters in an election.

AN OPEN LETTER

Follow Granite Citizens

My name is Kenneth S. Hartbarger. This is to announce that I will be a Candidate for Alder at April 2, 1963.

My wife Gay and daughter Marilyn reside with me at 2902 Pershing Boulevard. I have been a resident of this community for more than ten years. I am a man who is a life long resident of Granite City and Madison. I am 35 years old.

The incumbent alderman is seeking re-election at age 74. The city hall group is supporting him. The 6th Ward has shown a rebellious attitude toward machine-type representation. No longer can we afford this for ourselves or our children.

I believe we must elect a younger, more progressive-thinking man—a man physically and mentally capable of more aggressive leadership.

If elected I promise to be the hardest working alderman the 6th Ward has ever known. The doors to my home always will be open to the constituents of this ward and my phone always will be in service for any and all calls.

I pledge myself to the following if elected:

(1) I shall work vigorously for the initiation of an Official Priority Listing of MET projects within the city. I will make every effort to insure that Nameoki Road heads that sit and the widening of Veterans Road be placed ahead of some less-needed projects now in the hopper. Also included for early completion should be work now planned for the Community Health area.

(2) I shall oppose always the expenditure of tax dollars which is not in the best interest of the public interest. The incumbent alderman who seeks re-election voted recently to put a bill for call on expenditures on first reading. Two years ago I personally opposed on this alderman and others to vote against a similar bill.

(3) I pledge always to vote the way my constituents direct. For example, the alderman who seeks re-election on his record voted "No" to the fluoridation proposal even though he, his constituents, voted an overwhelming "Yes" at the polls. This is questionable representation to say the least; in my opinion, it is reverse representation!

(4) I promise to push for Council action to the untimely blight that once was a graveyard in the East End near the corner of Kirkpatrick Homes. This eyesore to the city and should be eliminated.

(5) I shall oppose continuing Council sanction of the health menace and public nuisance created by large fires being set near residential areas along East 21st Street.

(6) Most of all, I'll be a "working alderman"—not a "Yes Man" for some private interests or politicians. I intend to work hard at getting elected to this alderman post. If elected, I promise to go to City Hall with absolutely no special commitments but with an equal commitment to each constituent of the 6th Ward and to represent him or her to the best of my ability in all Council actions.

I want to be honest with the voters in my word. It is true that nearly eleven years ago—before coming to this area to live—I had some trouble with the Federal Authorities. I was young and glibly, I pleaded guilty, and I paid the penalty. The charge was violation of Section 18 of the U. S. Code. The indictment charged interstate transportation of fraudulently made securities, a highly technical term which meant that I cashed three checks that did not clear the bank. The amount of these checks was Eighty-One Dollars and thirty cents ($81.30).

I feel that God has forgiven me for this mistake of eleven years ago because of the family and success that have come to me since that time. My constant prayer is for increasing opportunity to make amends.

My ten years in the Quad-Cities are without blemish and of this I am proud—I am proud of my 6-year-old daughter.

* I have been and am now active in local fraternal work.

I served as an officer in one of the local lodges during 1960 and 1961.

* I am a member of Marshall School P.T.A.

* I am a member of the local Chamber of Commerce.

* I am a member of the Tri-Cities Community Center Association.

* I am a former member of Bellemeade Local #275, am currently a member in pending rechartering of Local #102.

* I am a member of the Madison County Young Democrats Club.

For two years I sponsored the former firefighters ball club. I have sponsored ladies' bowling team, men's bowling team, and last year I sponsored a boys' ball club in Wilson Park. This year I am sponsoring a men's bowling team, and again I hope to put the boys' ball club in Wilson Park.

I have strived to succeed in business, to provide well for my family, and to be on-est to this community. Now I will have success will be shown in some degree by the voters of this ward on April 2.

I'd greatly appreciate your careful consideration of my candidacy. Thank you.

Sincerely, your friend,

Kenneth S. Hartbarger

Report To Kerner Shows Ill. Unemployment Below U. S. Level

A 40-man committee of businessmen, labor leaders, educators and government officials reporting on an 18-month study of unemployment in Illinois, Wednesday told Gov. Otto Kerner.

Among those submitting the report at Springfield was John R. Hundley Jr., director of industrial relations and personnel at Granite City Steel Co.

(1) Unemployment in the state is currently below the national level. But in the 10-year period between 1950 and 1970, 750,000 new jobs must be created in Illinois, twice as many as between 1950 and 1960.

(2) Two-thirds of these new jobs, or 500,000 must be created in metropolitan Chicago to keep pace with its growth. Chicago will need an additional 800,000 new jobs between 1970 and 1980.

(3) Jobs are decreasing in agriculture, mining, transportation, communications and public utilities. They are growing fastest in service industries—hotels, motels, travel and vacation services, and repair and maintenance functions of all kinds.

(4) Other important new job sources are finance, real estate and business services; foreign and domestic trade; government, and construction.

(5) There is a correlation between employment and education. Unemployment is highest among the less-educated and less-skilled and among non-whites. Most of the job opportunities of the future will be open only to well-educated, highly-trained individuals.

These findings were contained in a significant report prepared by the committee, which was established by Gov. Kerner in June 1961, to find ways of stimulating employment in Illinois.

The report of the committee to the governor at a noon luncheon yesterday in Springfield.

The plot of the unemployment is the first undertaking of its kind in the United States. It was conducted under the chairmanship of Frank H. Cassell, director of personnel administration for Inland Steel Company.

Gov. Kerner called the committee's report an "immense contribution to the future good of every Illinois citizen." He added that it not only "charts the reasons for unemployment in Illinois but also spells out what we must do to reduce its occurrence and outlines the magnitude of our task."

Unique Undertaking

In his remarks at the luncheon, Cassell said that the study was unique because it was undertaken by a group of men from all walks of life.

Other new sources of employment record is better than that of the rest of the nation. "The time to take action on unemployment is before the economy has declined and unemployment risen to unmanageable proportions, not after," he added.

In its report, the committee emphasized that continuous economic growth of the state was a key to solution of the unemployment problem.

Statistics in an experimental pilot project to improve the exchange of job-related data.

(6) Private companies local and state government officials should cooperate in a joint promotional effort to call federal government's attention to Illinois' highly productive and talented manpower force and its wide range of industrial facilities, which can "effectively contribute to the government's efforts in the fields of medical, biological, and physical science research."

(7) A large scale effort be mounted to reduce the proportion of school drop-outs, with particular emphasis on counseling the drop-out prone child in both elementary and high schools.

(8) The committee recommended that community organizations, particularly church groups, launch a campaign in cooperation with the schools to educate parents of drop-out prone children to the fact that inadequate education and unemployment are related.

(9) Vocational courses in schools be constantly revised to keep up with technological developments and changing job requirements in industry.

(10) The compulsory education age be extended to 17 years, or until high school graduation.

(11) Substantially increasing the number of post high school educational institutions such as junior colleges and technical institutes.

(12) Strengthening of the Illinois State Employment Service by upgrading its staff and improving its communications with job seekers, employers and the public.

(13) Greater support be given to groups combating religious and racial discrimination including the Illinois Fair Employment Practices Commission. The committee found that in Chicago Negroes constituted 40 per cent of the unemployed, though they made up only 13 per cent of the work force.

(14) Unemployment compensation be extended to cover employees of firms with only one worker and to employees of the state and local governments, and to those working for non-profit organizations.

Auto Club To Stage Reliability Run From Alton To Millstadt On Sunday

Between 300 and 500 participants are expected to compete in the Steel Mills Reliability Run, an auto race, which will start at 8 a.m. on Sunday from Alton and end at Millstadt.

The event, first sponsored by the Granite City club, is open to both stock and sports cars, which will run in one class. Entry fee $1.50 per car and large trophies will be awarded to the first through fourth place finishers.

A social get-together will be held at the Millstadt VW hall before the race. Refreshments will be served and refreshments will be served. A 50-cent admission charge will be levied on those who did not compete in the reliability run to witness the movies.

66 Recommendations

The committee made a total of 66 recommendations to the governor, among them the following:

(1) Good sites, resources and services be developed throughout the state to encourage industry to locate and expand there. It also urged that an industrial park be developed in Chicago's Lake Calumet area.

(2) Scientific research and development be encouraged in a growth environment—be stimulated by establishing a financial agency to encourage investment in California and Massachusetts. The committee also urged "vigorous efforts to improve the position of Illinois in the allocation of defense and space research contracts."

(3) Depressed areas downstate be given a boost by stepping up the building of intra-state and interstate highways in order to promote commerce among the recreation areas of southern Illinois.

(4) An all-out effort be launched to develop Illinois' foreign trade, particularly the production of Chicago as an international port. Some 215,000 Illinois jobs are currently being gained by exports, but there is potential thousands more, the committee said.

(5) More accurate methods be devised for securing information on the changes in the job market. Knowledge of job openings and availability of qualified people. Some jobs are currently going begging because of inactivity of job and applicant to get together. The committee suggested that Illinois cooperate with the U. S. Bureau of Labor

HOME NOTES

By
MRS. ELAINE P. WENDLER
Madison County Home Adviser,
Home Economics Extension,
University of Illinois

Today's carnation, the official flower for the month of January, is the product of centuries of effort.

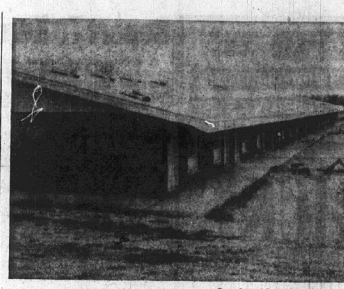

The large, double, perpetual-flowering carnations you get from your florist were originated by a French botanist about 1840 and were introduced into the United States about 15 years later.

Since that time, intensive hybridization and selection in this country have produced many excellent varieties and strains. The two most common varieties grown in America today are the Littlefields and the Sims.

A recent development in carnations is the miniature spray type. This variety has several small flowers on a single stem, much like pompon chrysanthemums. Large or small, carnations have a wide variety of use in corsages, centerpieces and other floral arrangements.

New Uses For Stretch Fabrics

New uses for stretch fabrics can be expected in the near future, according to a recent report.

20 NEW MOTEL UNITS under construction at Mercer Motel along U. S. Bypass 66-40 near the U. S. 67a intersection. With the expansion, the motel will have 34 units plus living quarters for the manager. It is located between two interchanges under construction for Federal Aid Route 151 and Route 67a, west of Mitchell.

Stretch cotton fabric is expected to be used in work clothes and everyday clothes, where it will allow stretching across the back and at knees and elbows. Furthermore, a major producer plans to introduce a new stretch wool fabric for men's winter suits.

The fabric is said to spring back into shape after stretching. This same concept plans to introduce a combination Dacron-wool stretch suit, next spring that will have greater crease retention than a regular Dacron-wool suit. Another new textile product is a new glass yarn, said to have much more resistance to abrasion and breaking than similar fibers. This yarn has been developed for apparel and home furnishings as well as for industrial uses.

One newcomer in home appliances is the thermoelectric refrigerator. The current model is described by the manufacturer as requiring about one-third the space of a conventional 15-cubic-foot refrigerator.

It is a console style with walnut-grained vinyl exterior and is intended for use in a living room or recreation room.

One feature of this type of refrigerator is that it has no moving parts. Therefore, it does not present the customary servicing problems of a conventional unit.

One of the most important housing developments in the last few years has been the increase in construction of housing specifically designed to meet the needs of senior citizens.

The Senior Citizens Housing Act of 1962 provides new programs for senior citizen housing in rural farm and nonfarm areas to be administered by the Farm Home Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The act also increases the authorization in the direct loan program for senior citizen housing under HHFA.

Signup Starts For Soil Programs On Farms

Cost-sharing assistance to help farmers in carrying out specifically approved soil conservation practices is available under the 1963 Agricultural Conservation Program.

ACP sign-up started this week at the county ASCS office, 110 North Main street, Edwardsville. The basic sign-up period extends through Jan. 31. However, requests will be accepted through the year as long as funds are available for the practice involved.

Farmers who intend to apply limestone and rock phosphate materials by July 31 may sign up now. Any materials approved for use during such periods must actually be applied to the land by July 31. If this is not done, the approval will be cancelled.

Requests for limestone and rock phosphate to be used during the last part of the year (August 1, December) will not be accepted until Aug. 1. In all cases a soil test must be on file before an approval can be issued.

In order to earn assistance, an official request must be filed before the practice is started, an approval must be used during the period of time to accomplish the work.

The Soil Conservation Service, Forestry personnel and Game Biologists will cooperate in extending technical assistance when necessary.

Coast Guard Heroism Medal Award To Jack Champion Jr.

A medal of recognition for his attempted rescue of a Coast Guardsman off an Hawaiian Island has been presented to Warren Champion Jr., whose parents live at 1647 Fourth street, Madison.

ATCC Champion, 21, a Madison high school graduate, was presented with the Coast Guard Medal for heroism recently at the Northbrook Coast Guard station north of Chicago in a ceremony conducted by the commander, Capt. Carl H. Stover.

The citation for Champion was from Secretary of the Treasury C. Douglas Dillon at Washington, acting on behalf of President Kennedy.

For heroism, on the afternoon of Feb. 12, 1962, when he attempted to rescue a man from drowning off the west coast of Molokai Island, Hawaiian Islands.

The victim was one of a party of three Coast Guardsmen engaged in recreational swimming. When Champion, who was on duty at the Coast Guard Loran Transmitting station, was informed that one of them was in difficulty, he immediately ran to the scene.

Disregarding his own safety, "Disregarding his own safety, he jumped into the turbulent water and swam out to assist one of the other swimmers struggling to keep the unconscious man afloat."

"While progressing toward shore, a large wave separated them and Champion was left alone to handle the helpless man."

"However, further water turbulence caused him to lose his grip on the man who then sank beneath the surface of the water. Although he dived repeatedly in an attempt to find him, his efforts were unsuccessful, and he had to abandon his attempts and swim for his own safety to some nearby rocks."

which were being pounded by heavy surf and churning there cautiously for about 25 minutes until rescued by helicopter.

Champion demonstrated initiative and fortitude, in spite of constant and imminent personal danger during this attempted rescue.

"His unselfish actions and unwavering devotion to duty reflect the highest credit upon himself and the U. S. Coast Guard."

Police said Mrs. Hill was driving north on Nameoki road and making a right turn when the child started to fall. Her auto collided with a car being driven west on Jill avenue by Fred L. Farmer, 47, of 2505 Grand avenue.

TV Meeting Series Set For Teachers

A series of area meetings to acquaint teachers and administrators with educational television offerings will be conducted this month by the Southern Illinois Instructional Television Association.

Coordinator Carl Plinning said the meetings will be on Jan. 9 at Marion junior high; Jan. 10 at Murphysboro high; Jan. 16 at Casey junior high in Mt. Vernon, and Jan. 17 at Freeburg elementary school.

Each meeting will start at 4:30 p.m. and will include a history of educational TV in southern Illinois, a panel discussion, a demonstration TV program and a question and answer period.

Plinning said one purpose of the sessions is to develop interest and participation in the SITPA programs offered over WSUTV-TV at Southern Illinois University. The second semester of classroom telecasts will begin Jan. 28.

Plinning said 17,555 southern Illinois elementary and high school students attended TV classes during the first semester, based on returns from teachers evaluating the courses. The most widely used programs were those in art and music for the primary grades.

Hit-Run Accident

Postal Rates Will Increase Next Monday

Postal patrons are being reminded by local postmasters of the rate increase which begins next Monday.

First-class mail will require five cents per ounce or fraction of an ounce. Postal cards will be four cents instead of the present three cents.

Air mail rates will be eight cents per ounce for letter, and six mail cards will go to six cents from five cents. Third-class mail also will be increased.

The single-piece third-class rate will be four cents for the first two ounces and 1½ cents for each additional ounce. This amount will be required on articles such as unsolicited greeting cards without writing inside and small items of merchandise weighing less than 16 ounces.

Parcel post rates will remain unchanged.

The post office department also has a new ruling now in force that items less than three inches wide and 4½ inches long are unmailable. Such items placed in the mails will be sent to the dead letter file.

Madison Family Seeks Dog That Bit Girl

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gasho, 1812 Market street, Madison, whose daughter, Vandelea, was bitten by a dog Dec. 30 on the Madison junior high school playground near Second street, are seeking to learn the whereabouts of the dog so that the girl can avoid taking the painful series of anti-rabies shots.

The animal was small, slick-haired and black and white. Anyone owning or knowing who owns the dog is being asked to contact the Gasho family, enabling arrangements to be made for it to be kept under observation for the required period. If this is done, and the dog is found to be not rabid, the girl will not have to take the shots.

Farm Column

By IRUMAN W. MAY
Madison County Farm Advisor

Some wheat fields are showing a brownish or yellowish cast. Injury is most common in early spring to control these diseases.

If the disease is leaf rust, powdery mildew, septoria leaf blotch or crown and root rot, nothing can be done now or next spring to control these diseases. But you'll want to check your wheat fields closely. Plants with healthy-appearing upper leaves and a healthy crown and root system should pull through the winter with little or no damage.

Plan for a normal nitrogen application if this is part of your program. If crown and root rot are severe, wait until next spring to see how much of the stand remains, then decide what to do. Some farmers are applying nitrogen now, while the ground is frozen solid.

Here's a rundown on diseases commonly attacking winter wheat fields: Small reddish-brown pustules of leaf rust are very common on lower yellow leaves. Single leaves may have 50 to 100 or more rust pustules. In Illinois leaf rust will be killed by winter temperatures. But severe leaf rust has been reported on winter wheat from a number of major wheat-growing states. Some of this rust, especially in states south of Illinois, may overwinter and blow north next spring to infect our wheat fields. Fortunately, almost all the Illinois-grown winter wheats have good resistance to leaf rust in the adult stage.

Powdery mildew may be found in many wheat fields. It appears as light gray to tan patches of mold growth on the lower leaves. Winter weather usually kills out mildew fungus.

Septoria leaf blotch is now present in many wheat fields. It shows up as light green to yellowish spots in the leaves that enlarge to form light brown blotches. Many black specks are embedded in these blotches. You may find infection now on the lowermost leaves. The disease may spread to the leaves forming next spring.

Still another disease complex has been found in some fields. Crown and root rot, which cause stunting and yellowing or browning of plants in localized areas of fields, have been reported. This disease is caused by common seed- and soil-borne fungi that rot the crown and roots. Many of the affected plants are now withering and dying.

Insects—Hessian flies, aphids and leafhoppers—are contributing to the spread of the disease in many localities. Despite all these troubles, most wheat fields in the county look good considering the dry fall and the cold early winter. Farmers hope that cold weather and the rest of the winter will be accompanied by some snow to protect the wheat plants.

As an increasing number of hogs are fed on concrete, it becomes more and more evident that in some lots feed waste can be an important source of loss. This waste undoubtedly occurred when hogs were fed in dirt lots.

Meadows and lots are available for 44 more houses in the 15-acre tract. The development is being carried out by Maryland Real Estate Co. and includes three streets—Lake, but it was not so evident then. In recently reported tests conducted at the West Virginia Experiment Station feed waste ranged from one to 20% of the total amount fed. Sixteen different self-feeders were tested. Feeders were placed on gratings in such a way that all spilled feed could be recovered and weighed.

The researchers conducting these trials concluded that the feeders that wasted least feed had these three characteristics: A "lip" on the inside of the top of the feed trough.

Bars across the top of the feed trough dividing the trough into small sections. Baffles to control feed flow that were easy to adjust, constructed so as to make small adjustments possible, and locked firmly in place.

A group of livestock farmers from Madison county, Missouri, with County Agent Wm. R. McCreery, spent a couple of days visiting some Illinois farms to see feed handling methods. On their stop here, we took them to the Richard E. Ellis farm in St. Jacob township to see his automatic cattle-feeding equipment, which was installed several years ago with the assistance of agricultural engineers of the University of Illinois, with several improvements since.

One of the most interesting automation studies now under development at the University is a medium-pressure pneumatic conveying system for farm use. The system uses one-inch-diameter conveying pipe and pressures up to 10 pounds per square inch. It will convey about one ton of feed per hour with 25 to 30 cubic feet of air per minute.

The main advantage of a high-pressure pneumatic conveying system is the ease with which feed flow can be diverted from one location to another under automatic control. The medium-pressure pneumatic conveying system is ideal for use with an automatic feed-preparation system. An automatic hammer mill blends, grinds and delivers a fresh, complete ration to the conveyor, and the conveying system delivers the feed to livestock.

The pneumatic conveying system is easily purged, and little feed remains in the pipeline to be mixed with subsequent rations. This feature will permit automatic ration selection. Automatic valves make it possible to route the new rations to different locations. All routine feed operations can be handled automatically. A farmers' meeting to discuss crop production, including weed control, alfalfa growing and several other topics, will be held at the meeting room of the Madison Service Co. elevator at Alhambra on Thursday afternoon, Jan. 10 at 1:30 p.m. Colored slides of the new alfalfa varieties and recommended methods of growing alfalfa will be shown, also pictures of chemical weed control. Several other timely farm topics will also be discussed. All farmers are invited to this Extension meeting.

As we start a new year, there are, as usual, plenty of predictions about the farm outlook especially in regard to prices farmers can expect to get for their products. Most of the better-known forecasters think prices will not be much different than in 1962, unless there are some violent changes in the international situation.

Dairymen are invited to attend a meeting to discuss milk marketing problems at the Weinheimer building, Highland, on Wednesday, Jan. 16 at 12:30 p.m. Speakers from the Illinois Agricultural Association and University of Illinois will be on the program.

Cub Pack Leaders To Meet Monday Evening

"Blue and Gold" ideas will be the theme for next Monday's Roundtable for all pack leaders in the Uniwah Scout District. It was announced today by John Shy, Uniwah Cub Leader Roundtable director.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Carpenters' Union hall, 23rd street and Washington avenue.

Higher Engineer District Approves Hillside Drainage

A $6,900,000 interior flood control plan proposed for the lowlands of Madison and St. Clair counties last November by the St. Louis district Corps of Engineers has been approved by the next higher Army headquarters, the regional Corps of Engineers at Vicksburg, Miss.

An additional plan for the replacement of flood control gates on the Cahokia diversion canal, which lies inside the area also has been approved at Vicksburg. Cost estimate is $2,440,000.

The flood control plan, sold by the Corps of Engineers to be capable of preventing 75% of the flooding caused by hillside drainage once all proposed structures are completed, will next be considered by Army Engineer headquarters in Washington.

Any further action would culminate in a Congressional appropriation to cover the construction of the 33 structures in the project at an estimated total cost of $3.7 million.

According to Cong. Melvin Price (Dem., E. St. Louis), the earliest possible appropriation would come in 1964, since "omnibus" flood control legislation is considered biennially only.

The system, which is dependent on the East Side Levee & Sanitary District's ability to raise some $3.2 millions in non-government funds, most of which would be used to buy land and secure right-of-way.

Financing Uncertain

Financing of the non-Federal funds has not been determined, but would most probably require approval of a bond issue by public referendum.

The proposed project is divided into two watersheds, the Harding ditch on the south and the Cahokia diversion canal (Hartford canal) on the north, with control gates. Horseshoe Lake would serve as one of the retention areas.

New construction also would include the enlarging of 12 1/2 miles of existing drainage ditches, a hillside dam and reservoir on Little Canteen creek, a large pumping station on Blue Waters ditch, six new highway and three new railway bridges and two large culverts.

Three major floods in the past decade have been laid to the lack of interior drainage in the 15,000-acre area, which corresponds roughly to the boundaries of the levee district.

Leaves along major waterways protect most of the area from flooding during high stages of the Mississippi river.

It is waters from rain falling in the hills and bluffs east of the lowlands, plus rainwater directly on the area, which have caused the interior flooding problems, the Corps of Engineers said.

Heart Disease Subject Of Initial Nurses' Program

First continuing education for nurses program of the new year will be held Jan. 10 at 7:30 p.m. at St. Elizabeth Hospital, with all registered nurses of the area invited to attend.

Mrs. Marjorie Daniels, R.N., director of the St. Elizabeth nursing service, said guest speakers will be Dr. Herbert Zimmerman and Dr. Martin Bergman, both of Washington University.

Dr. Zimmerman, a specialist in heart diseases, is an instructor of clinical medicine at the university, chief of cardiovascular laboratories and on the staff of Jewish Hospital. He will discuss "Medical Aspects of Heart Disease."

Dr. Bergman, in addition to his post at the university, is chief of thoracic surgery at Jewish Hospital. His topic at the nurses' meeting will be "Surgical Aspects of Heart Disease."

Both Dr. Zimmerman and Dr. Bergman render their services to St. Elizabeth Hospital on a part-time basis every other Saturday. Both are graduates of the Washington University School of Medicine.

At the conclusion of the scheduled program, which will be a question and answer period, the next scheduled meeting of the continuing education series is to be held Feb. 14.

Flames Destroy

frame home owned by Jones and occupied by Robert Diggs.

A house at 207 Terry street, owned by Zeta Baker and occupied by James E. Miller, was damaged. Firemen said the intense heat of the flames melted siding and cracked windows.

The Venice fire department responded to the call at 10:15 p.m. Chief Michael Leatherman Jr. said it was the third time within a month Venice fire equipment has been dispatched to Eagle Acres.

The blaze was the second this winter for Diggs, whose home at 305 Hill street was destroyed by flames about a month ago.

Flames Had Start

Firemen said the blaze apparently began in the larger house. Jones said he was in one room and saw smoke coming from another. He ran outside, he said, and saw flames leaping from a window.

Leatherman said none of the loss was covered by insurance. No estimate of the loss has been made. It was not determined immediately whether Jones or Diggs have families.

Leatherman said Eagle Acres is out of the Venice city limits and the Venice department is not obligated to answer calls there. "But those people have no other protection," he said.

He pointed out that the fire department has permission of city officials to answer calls in Eagle Acres, and said the city bears the cost. Only one truck and four firemen are dispatched to the out-of-town calls, Leatherman said, and Venice is never left unprotected.

Firemen were at the scene last night for an hour and a half.

Melvin Dennis, who operates a pool room at 109 Slough road, Venice, told police the building was entered Tuesday night and the juke box was broken open. Police said an attempt to remove the coin box from the machine was unsuccessful, and nothing was taken.

Thelma Burks, 319 Weaver street, Venice, told police a tire and wheel was stolen from her 1954 model auto last night while the vehicle was parked in front of her home.

3 Persons Hurt In 3 New Year's Day Accidents

Three motorists were injured in three separate traffic accidents occurring on the morning of New Year's Day. One was in the rural area and two in Granite City.

A Granite City motorist, John C. Estes, 38, of 4140 Division street, lost several front teeth about 7 a.m. New Year's Day when his auto crashed into a tree in the 2500 block of East 28th street.

Police charged him with careless driving, and he posted his driver's license as bond. He was given emergency treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Estes told police he was traveling east and was looking at a westbound auto when his car went over the curb and struck the tree at 2524 East 28th street.

Driver Hurt, Faces Charge
A charge of failure to yield right-of-way was placed against Bud Newman, 54, of 2457 Adams street, who was hurt in a two-car crash about 7:55 a.m. New Year's Day at East 23rd street and Nameoki road.

Police said Newman was traveling south on Nameoki road and his car skidded 40 feet through the stop sign to strike an auto driven west on East 23rd street by Jo Ann Heinemann, 21, of Rural Route One. Newman posted his driver's license as bond.

Auto Goes Into Field
A Granite City motorist's auto overturned in a field immediately north of the A. O. Smith Corp. plant off U. S. Highway 67a about 3:25 a.m. Tuesday. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital but escaped apparent injury.

Granite City police were summoned to the scene and notified state troopers. The driver, Kenneth Johnson, 22, of 2449 Illinois avenue, told the trooper he was driving south and when he made a U-turn his auto went into the field and overturned.

Don't trust everything to luck unless your emergency brake is in good working order.

WATCH SERVICE AT CHURCH

A Watch-Night Service was held Monday evening at the First Baptist Church. A worship service was held and a film was shown. This was followed by a social hour and refreshments served.

THE OLD GENERAL STORE

John W. Allen

Southern Illinois University

A good businessman regularly takes inventory. This generally is done about New Year. Just after the Christmas rush. From information gained he learns the value of stock on hand. This helps him to determine the profit or loss he has made.

This article comes from boyhood observations made in a small-town general store where the process was employed. The building, the nearby warehouse, the stock of goods and the merchant are long since gone. An image of the store, its furniture and fixtures, its confused array of goods and the groups of men sitting about the big stove, remains in memory.

Since this is principally about that long vanished store, it might be well first to glance at the social life of the establishment which centered about the large woodburning stove that Mr. McPherson, the man of all work, tended with fire wood, cut and hauled in to be "applied on the account" of some customers.

The store stood in the midst of a four by eight foot island of sawdust which was meant to receive the discarded quills of chewing tobacco and to protect the floor from poorly aimed streams of spit.

Returns From Hospital

Mrs. Wilma Bridges, 2801 Faith avenue, returned Wednesday from Jewish Hospital, St. Louis, where she was a patient for two weeks while recovering from surgery.

MOTORS THROUGH MISSOURI

Mrs. Julia Kackley, 714 Third street, spent the weekend as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Huston, of Caseyville. They spent Sunday motoring through Missouri and time was spent in Farmington and in Cozy City, returning home on Sunday evening.

BU'S SINCLAIR SERVICE

proposed, often surprisingly logical ones.

Though these men were frequently accused they were intelligent, straight thinking and didn't depend upon radio or TV for ready-made opinions. Items from newspapers sometimes were read aloud, for papers were scarce and many could not read. Altogether, they were a reasonably rugged bunch.

Many items that were inventoried then are curious now. A leather strap would hold a cluster of cowbells that now tinkle only in memory. Trace chains, horse collars, hames and rope halters that hung on the racks then are rare now.

There also were items of leather or harness, an occasional saddle, check lines, plowpoints, laprings, buggy whips, singletrees, lap robes, and backbands in a motley array. There were tin and wooden boxes of saleratus, and of wool fat used to put a shine on horse hoofs and cattle horns.

Not far from the stove, yet where visitors could not reach into it too easily, was the crackle barrel. Then there was a enormous cheese almost two feet in diameter and a foot thick with a slicing knife poised like a guillotine above it. Cheese and crackers were rated as delicacies.

Scattered about the stoves were barrels of rolled hominy, much like bleached corn flakes. Other barrels held coffee berries, both green and roasted. The green berries, to be roasted by the housewife, were cheaper, sometimes selling for as little as 15 cents a pound. In addition to the barreled roasted coffee those wishing to do so could buy packaged coffee, either Arbuckle's or McLaughlin's. These were among the first packaged foodstuffs.

On a low rack, generally near the back of the store, there was a row of barrels that held sorghum, New Orleans molasses, vinegar, and coal oil. Beneath the spigots of these barrels there were more framed patches of sawdust to catch drippings.

There were barrels, bags, or boxes of bleached, sulphur smoked dried smoked. Then there were barrels of flour, rice, black-eyed peas, oatmeal, navy beans, brown sugar, and other "staples." These were weighed or measured to meet the customer's wishes.

Cornmeal was sold by the bushel. Then there were shorts and "middlings" that have worked themselves into today's cereals.

This store had gunpowder, bar lead, shot, musket caps, felt boots, steelcords, snare, one ounce bottles of quinine for malaria, and carpet warp. It had steel traps, window glass, Chocron candy, stone fruit jars, churns and milk crocks, red striped candy in wide-mouthed jars with glass stoppers, licorice sticks and fire shovels.

If only that staid store, so primitive even then, could have been looked that day 65 years ago and unlocked this year. What a collector's heaven it would make.

Trades Council Names Legislative Committee

A legislative committee for the Tri-City's Trades & Labor Council was named last night at a regular meeting of the organization at the Labor Temple, attended by 42 delegates.

Edwin Reiske, president, said the committee, headed by Ernest Corbin of the Electricians' Union, will work directly with a national AFL-CIO committee which has headquarters in Washington.

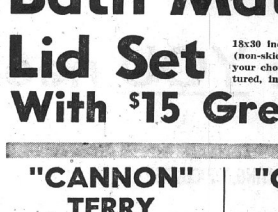

"The purpose," Reiske explained, "is to keep information on bills in Congress that pertain to labor and to keep local unions informed."

Other members of the committee are—Fred Piebanek, Theodore Moran and Lennie Crockerell of the Steelworkers, William Soudocor of the Teachers Federation, Edw. Vaughn of the Carpenters Union, John Blinn of the Ironworkers Union and Edison Phelps of the Chemical Workers Union.

Reiske also reported a union election clinic will be held Feb. 6, conducted by Gordon Brewer, permanent regional director at Kansas City for the U. S. Department of Labor.

Brewer is to be at the Labor Temple from 3:30 to 6:30 p.m. Feb. 6 to go over federal requirements for union elections and annual financial reports. Representatives of all 54 unions in the Trades Council are expected to confer with him.

Brewer also is to speak at 7:30 p.m. during a regular meeting of the Trades Council at the Labor Temple.

Usually we like it by any name it is called . . . Cash, Kola, Mustang, Spendolite, or Wampum. Every business takes inventory at the start of new year, and just about every householder starts planning to SAVE more this year on food. Andy (of Andy and Andy) once said, "Isn't that like the insurance companies, they give you a lot of stuff in big type, then take it away from you in small type." We've over 5000 items on our shelves at lowest possible prices, so regardless of the size of type used in our ads, you'll find everything on the page listed at today's lowest price on each item. Unlike many of our competitors, we don't believe in merely listing a few low prices in big type, and higher prices on many other items.

Thieves Loot Wedding Gifts of Honeymooners

Starting married life on a honeymoon was an unpleasant necessity for a former Granite City girl and her bridegroom.

It was about all they had left after thieves rifled their station wagon and stole all the luggage and wedding gifts in Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Alden Thomas Harris were married Saturday, Dec. 22, at San Antonio, Tex., where the bridegroom is serving as a second lieutenant with the U. S. Air Force.

The bride is the former Barry Jo Wood, daughter of Mrs. Mary Frances Wood, 2406 Edison avenue.

Their wedding reception lasted longer than expected and the newlyweds did not get away on their honeymoon until the next morning. They stopped at a restaurant in San Antonio to eat.

When they left the eating place they found all their belongings had been stolen. Stolen were their entire wardrobes including the lieutenant's dress uniforms, jewelry which included an heirloom diamond necklace, all their wedding gifts and Christmas gifts, most of which had not been unwrapped.

Both were graduated from Southern Illinois University in June. Lt. Harris obtained his commission through the Air Force ROTC program and is on his first tour of active duty at Lackland AFB. His home is in Highland Park, Ill.

Feb. 1 Completion Date For Holiday Inn Motel

Co-contractors Joseph H. Vatterotti Realty & Building Co. of St. Louis and S. M. Wilson & Co. of Granite City are shooting for a Feb. 1 completion date at the location of a 148-unit Holiday Inn motel located atop Sunset Hill on U. S. By-Pass 66, the Press-Record learned today.

A spokesman for the Vatterotti firm said weather conditions will determine how close to Feb. 1 the motel will be completed. Outdoor landscaping is the chief project at this time.

Most of the fabrication and construction of motel units, a restaurant, cocktail lounge, private meeting rooms and an outdoor swimming pool are complete. A grand opening will be held following the completion of construction.

The other members of the family present were Mrs. Vetta Brooks of Edwardsville, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Ream of Granite City, and Mrs. Herman J. Anderson of Rolla, Mo., and the hosts' children, Dennis and Donald.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnston, who were married recently on an extended honeymoon and left the city for Chicago early Wednesday morning. They plan to spend the month of January touring cities on the east coast and in Yucatan, Mexico, before returning to their home in Washington.

The hostess, Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Ream and Mrs. Anderson are the daughters of Mrs. Brooks, a former Granite City resident. A phone call from their brother, Orville Brooks in Colorado Springs, Colo., complicated the day as he was unable to attend the family reunion.

Liquor Board Has Data On Youths' Drinking

Information that liquor for a teenage drinking party was obtained from Lank's tavern on McCambridge avenue, near Madison, has been turned over to county liquor commission. Cass H. Haller, by the sheriff's office, said today the case is being investigated.

The party took place Dec. 29 at the home of Hayley J. Ahart, 15, of 4225 Lakoside drive, Pon-tiac. Eleven Quad-City boys and girls ranging from 13 to 19 years of age attended, according to the sheriff's office.

Sheriff's deputies confiscated two empty whiskey bottles, an empty gin bottle and a beer can. One youth was injured as a result of the party.

Ahart told sheriff's deputies that three girls at the party did not drink. They were released to their parents. The boys involved were placed under the supervision of the Madison police department youth officer. No formal charges were placed against them.

Ahart gave county authorities a statement that he purchased liquor at the tavern.

Attorney General Clark Gives CD, Other Rulings

A local Civil Defense director has no authority to override the Illinois School Code and order students to comply with a CD evacuation drill by walking some from school, state Attorney General William G. Clark has ruled.

Clark's decision was given at the request of Col. Donovan M. Vance, director of the Illinois Civil Defense Agency. It was among decisions covering a variety of legal questions.

"It should be noted, however," the attorney general said, "that there is no statutory prohibition against voluntary cooperation by school officials and pupils with the local Civil Defense organization, including participation in such a drill."

Clark also ruled that a city having an official comprehensive plan, implemented by ordinances, is authorized to provide for a new subdivision within one and one-half miles of the corporate limits of the city.

Over County Rules

The ordinance of such a city, Clark ruled, may take precedence over the county subdivision ordinance in respect to the unincorporated territory which is not more than one and one-half miles beyond the city limits.

The latter ruling was made at the request of State's Attorney Raymond L. Terrell of Sangamon county.

In an opinion handed down to State's Attorney James E. Bales of Lee county, Clark ruled that a town clerk who is paid a salary is not entitled to any fee for attending meetings of the town board of auditors.

Clark advised Harold O. Swank, executive secretary of the Illinois Public Aid Commission, that a supervisor of general assistance may refuse to permit examination of his list of assistance recipients to win. Dale knows, or reasonably should know, that the information obtained will be used for illegal commercial or political purposes.

The attorney general told State's Attorney Theodore Van Winkle of Hamilton county a person can serve both as county clerk and as an employee of the county liquor control commission, provided he or she has sufficient time to perform properly the duties of both positions.

Bill's, Ragan Lumber, Tri-Way Village Win In High School Loop

The Bills whipped the Twilight Optimist Boys' Club 41-17, Ragan Lumber downed Sim's Place 30-37 and Tri-Way Village placed out a 44-43 decision over St. Bartholomew's last night at Coolidge junior high school in park district High School league basketball contest.

The Bills rolled to a 23-9 half-time lead over Boys' Club, with Bill Lierman finishing with 13 points for the winners.

Ragan scored 20 points in the third quarter to overcome a 23-17 Sim's Place half-time lead. Charles Stephens scored 17 points for Ragan while Tony Bodi had 14 for Sim's.

Tri-Way led 18-14 over St. Bartholomew's at the half, but had to come from behind in the closing seconds to win. Dale Wadlow had 18 counters for the winners, while Mike Starke and Wait Warfield each netted 12 for St. Bartholomew's.

In High School league games scheduled tonight at the Community Center, Miller's Grocery will play Sim's Place at 7:45 and Olga's Confectionery will meet Belleme Barbers at 8:45.

IN THIS WORLD

WHEN WE FIND AN AMERICAN WE WANT TO WEAR THE PANTS IT'S TIME TO TAKE NOTICE...

IN 1903, J. M. HAGGAR, THEN A TEENAGER FROM LEBANON, MIGRATED TO U.S. TO SEEK HIS FORTUNE. HE WENT TO WORK FOR A MISSOURI OVERALL MANUFACTURER AS A SALESMAN. HIS TERRITORY WAS TEXAS, THEN THE MOST EXPANSIVE STATE IN THE NATION.

HAGGAR SLACKS, DESIGNED IN A STYLE AND CUT THAT HAS REMAINED THE SAME SINCE, IS NOW KNOWN AROUND THE WORLD.

WITH A CREATIVE EYE FOR FASHION, HE SET ABOUT TO CONVINCE EVERY MAN WEARING PANTS...

IN 1926 WITH A REVOLUTIONARY IDEA, HAGGAR, WITH HIS SAVING, HE OPENED A SMALL FACTORY IN DOWNTOWN DALLAS. IN 36 YEARS, HAGGAR'S COMPANY HAS EXPANDED INTO 7 MAJOR PLANTS LOCATED IN 7 STATES AND 2 COUNTRIES. EMPLOYING 3,200 PEOPLE MAKING OVER 600,000 PAIRS OF SLACKS EVERY WEEK.

Women's Sentences

In a ruling requested by State's Attorney James V. Cunningham of Peoria county, Clark said women 18 years of age or older, sentenced for 6 term of one year in a justice of the peace court for a crime of which that court has jurisdiction, must be sent to the State Reformatory for Women at Dwight.

He also ruled that provisions of the State Employees' Retirement System Act relating to participation of elected state officers apply equally to all persons holding positions to which they would normally be elected and include those appointed to such offices to fill a vacancy.

Clark advised George T. Wilkins, state superintendent of public instruction, that an administrative ruling will be necessary when two school boards take diametrically opposed positions as to annexation or detachment of territory from a special charter school district.

A coin and currency collection belonging to the First National Bank of Chicago will be on display from Jan. 7-18 at the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank. Included in the collection is a coin of the Eastern Roman Empire, several coins of the time of Julius Caesar and a shekel from ancient Tyre.

Specimens from the United States include a trade dollar and a flying eagle cent. A collection of medals of the presidents from Washington to Truman, obtained from the Philadelphia mint, completes the metallic part of the collection.

Included in the currency collection are specimens of national bank notes, issued individually by banks upon deposit in U. S. banks with the treasury. Accompanying the collection are two Kokeshi dolls from Japan. Such dolls are the Japanese counterpart of pinny banks.

Social Security Accounts Should Be Verified

Requests for copies of the special form with which an individual may verify the accuracy of social security records have been numerous, and for the convenience of Quad-Cityans the form with an explanation is being reprinted.

The form first was published in the Press-Record Christmas Eve edition, and to date more than 75 have been returned to this newspaper office for forwarding to the Social Security main office.

Quad-Cityans are being asked to look into the status of their Social Security accounts.

The request is being made by the district Social Security office in East St. Louis. District Manager Ralph Brasher is stressing that individuals should check their Social Security accounts about every three years to determine the accuracy of the administration's records.

With this article is a form that may be clipped and pasted to a post card and mailed to the Social Security Administration main office. The form also may be dropped off personally at the Press-Record office.

The Social Security Administration will send a statement of earnings to the individual upon receiving the request. It will show total earnings since 1937 along with a breakdown of annual income for the past four years.

MONEY THAT TALKS (TWICE!)

These U.S. Savings Bonds are owned jointly by a husband and wife.

The money that bought them says two things:

It says, "Here is a family that wants to do its share in keeping our country strong—wants to help give it the means and the power to speak for and work for the Free World."

It also says, "Here is a family that saves to take care of itself, to provide for its future. Here is a family that contributes to the strength of its country by keeping itself strong and independent."

Join up with the tens of millions of American families and individuals who are showing the communist part of the world how, right in their own homes and on their own jobs, they are helping to keep their country and the Free World strong.

It's easy. Just sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or arrange for a regular monthly Bond purchase at your bank.
